THE VISIBLE WORLD

IS BUT MAN TURNED INSIDE OUT

The surface of the world is created by man – it reflects his emotions, his intelligence, his abilities and his limitations. It is a gauge of all human activity. It is man – turned inside out.

What man creates, good or bad, and what man destroys, justly or unjustly, form the visible world.

In the created world, living expenses sky-rocketed and political sabotage surfaced. War in the Middle East raged and an energy crisis jolted the population.

Realizing that education is the only answer, Hazelwood students came face-to-face with the present turmoil. They explored opposing view-points and ideals by utilizing new learning concepts and methods.

Individual discovery and experience forced students to re-establish priorities and to challenge the contradictions of our time:

We have more time savers and are in a bigger hurry.

We have more morality and more indecency.

We have more medicine and more disease.

We have more sanitation and more filth.

We have more peace and more war.

We have more success and more boredom.

We have more education and more ignorance.

Man's achievement depends not only on his ability to create, but his ability to live with this creation.

Examination of man's world reveals right and wrong – and himself.

NO DEPOSIT,

As man's technology increased and the world's distances decreased, Americans found themselves taking what they could when they could. In an effort to kick the habit, Hazelwood joined the nation in an assessment of priorities and discovered a desire to contribute.

Students, concerned with world and local problems, consumed knowledge in order that they might produce solutions.

School clubs discarded their traditional rah-rah approach and concentrated on pitching-in for social betterment.

While consumer advocate Ralph Nader investigated auto safety and tax procedures, students conducted paper drives and charity collections. Giving their all and taking new responsibilities, today's youth acknowledged that every man is a consumer and ought to be a producer.

NO RETURN

We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it.

MAN IS NOT MADE

In a constantly changing world, the common man's success is witnessed every day. The success is recognized as vital not only to the society but to the individual.

At Hazelwood, success for some students came in the form of academics, art, music and sports. Others reached out to the community and participated in government activities and environmental projects.

Nationally, disease, poverty and crime spread and Americans continued to combat them. A polluted environment threatened to cut all life short, yet groups such as FATE helped preserve and improve it.

Americans sacrificed a few luxuries to check a looming energy crisis. Shortages such as that of paper hit Hazelwood, and both students and teachers countered with new methods of learning and teaching.

As crises have struck, man has retaliated. He has displayed a great capacity for error, yet even greater ability to bounce back. Conflicts are many, but something is learned from every struggle: man is not made for defeat.

FOR DEFEAT

Each individual has a different means of achieving success and a different attitude toward what constitutes success.

Therefore, a human being cannot be typified or classified.

NOT A NATION BUT

America's greatness as a people was marred by problems this year. Government corruption, a falling stock market, rampaging inflation, and unemployment — all hit close to home.

Government officials spoke out on controlling "biased" news coverage while the media cried "Freedom of the press!" The President claimed Executive Privilege and the public asked "How far does it go?"

Hazelwood students watched a federal administration fall from a landslide election to an astounding low in popularity.

White House officials and advisers, including the Vice-President, were convicted of felonies, and the nation witnessed the resulting strain on the President himself.

Many looked upon the situation as the destruction of the nation. But the optimistic viewed it as the ultimate test: whether a government of, by and for the people can cleanse itself; and truly, whether that government can survive.

A WORLD

Not a year of self-congratulation, but a moment of truthfulness when all of us together can look Watergate and Thomas Jefferson in the eye.

ADVERSITY AMID

PROSPERITY

We have to meet the severest test that can come to a people, the test of prosperity.

There was no need for newspapers to tell what was really happening in the world this year. A bombardment of rising prices and increasing unemployment coupled with energy, paper and food shortages told the story.

The Silent Majority was forced to sound off as they found themselves trapped by the existing circumstances. There was no way of shielding youth from these problems as speed-limit reductions, empty meat counters and Christmas light blackouts invaded the normal routine.

Fuel was scarce, and Hazelwood, along with the rest of the nation, was forced to alter its system. Student involvement was at least partially hindered by a temporary cancellation of activity buses.

Striving to maintain an established standard of living, the public tried to stretch limited resources to fill unlimited human wants.

Even though the U.S. was recognized as the most prosperous nation in the world, it was learning to do without.

THERE'S

As the world advances, problems are solved and more are created. It sometimes appears that the world does not progress; it merely changes. But as youth moves closer to leadership in society, success seems not only possible, but probable. Today's youth has a greater potential than any generation in history.

Using its insight gained through education, youth can strive toward not only a cure, but prevention of the world's ailments.

Attitude is all-important in terms of advancement. It determines whether we will meet only our present needs, or if we will build for a better future, through conservation and awareness. Youth's vast potential, combined with an unselfish and optimistic attitude can produce nothing but progress. The clock is still ticking, but there is still time.

STILL TIME.....

BROTHER

New times demand new measures and new men; the world advances, and in time outgrows the laws that in our father's day were best.

In a year plagued with dissonance, America found an ever-growing need for harmony of speech and action. An intolerance for dishonesty grew, perhaps incited by its revealed presence in national affairs.

Through intensive examination, Hazelwood students realized their place in society in regard to others. They recognized that cooperation was the one way to progress, and that cooperation could be achieved only through honesty.

Programs such as foreign exchange aided students in understanding others and a tutoring project sponsored by NHS helped students help each other.

The successful results of these programs were very encouraging. But perhaps the real importance lay in the fact that an effort was being made toward true cooperation.

Mrs. Helen Bridgeman

Sixteen-year journalism adviser named to administrative position

When Mrs. Helen Bridgeman arrived at Hazelwood in 1958, she took on the task of building the school's first journalism curriculum. A teacher of English IV, her aim was to improve the quality of the Hawk Talk and Torch.

School publications were, at that time, an extracurricular activity of NHS, and due to the many activities of most NHS members, the work fell largely on Mrs. Bridgeman, who not only wrote most articles, but took 75 per cent of the photographs.

Journalism was nothing new to Mrs. Bridgeman, who worked for KMOX radio after receiving her degree from the University of Missouri.

After leaving the radio, marrying, and raising two children, she decided to return to school and obtain a degree in education, which eventually brought her to Hazelwood.

Attending a summer yearbook workshop shortly after her arrival, Mrs. Bridgeman developed new ideas which significantly altered the Torch. Using graphics for the first time, the layout was arranged much like that of a magazine. Such features as the "Class Will" and "Senior Mosts" were omitted, in favor of more important activities.

Since that time, the Torch has grown from a 100-page book to the largest high school yearbook in the nation, boasting 360 pages.

Due to her new position as Hazelwood Communications Coordinator, the 1974 Torch is the first edition in 16 years which she has not sponsored.

Although she did not sponsor this edition, this 20th anniversary issue of the Torch and all which follow will serve as a reminder of, and as a tribute to Mrs. Helen Bridgeman.

LIFE but never living.

Back-to-school activities greet 5,400 students

On September 5, the doors opened wide to welcome approximately 5,400 students. Boasting the largest enrollment ever, Hazelwood set out to make each person feel like an individual; in doing so, it confronted students with several changes.

One large phase of registration was eliminated — that of paying fees. Still the process of registration and bewilderment to the students and counselors whose schedules were topsy-turvy with missing classes, alternating schedules, and overlapping lunch hours.

After the initial processes involved in getting a free public education were complete, students faced the beckoning corridors with the traditional blues of spending another nine months cooped up in classrooms with boring teachers, dull classes, and two-hour homework assignments. But for the student with initiative and school spirit, Hazelwood had thought-provoking subjects, stimulating activities, and competitive sports.

The bustle of signing up for clubs, making new friends, and studying new subjects is what Hazelwood had to offer. With more than 30 clubs and organizations, a choice of some 250 courses, and 5,400 fellow classmates, even the shyest sophomore found his niche.

Homecoming '73 links tradition with contemporary fall festivities

Homecomings are traditional, yet each Homecoming remains as unique as the people who create it. This year's fall festivities were set to the theme of an "Underwater Fantasy" as Hazelwood students created their 1973

Homecoming weekend. Colorful floats reflected the ocean's treasures as the Homecoming Parade travelled its Saturday morning route.

Concert Choir's entry in the float competition, "Clam the Rams" was awarded first place by judges, while court maids and cheerleaders were seated in convertibles to prepare for the windy excursion.

The gridiron was the focus of afternoon attention as the Hawks battled the Riverview Rams, but the excitement reached its peak when Ruth Delaney was announced queen at half-time ceremonies.

The day was concluded with an "evening under the sea" at the annual Homecoming Dance. An oyster shell throne, complemented by murals depicting underwater sea life, set the stage for coronation of the fantasy's queen.

Ruth Delaney reigns queen at 'Underwater Fantasy'

Ruth Delaney, a blonde haired, blue eyed native of Scottsdale, Arizona was crowned Hazelwood's 1973 Homecoming Queen.

A sports enthusiast, Ruth has been active in athletics since she moved to the Hazelwood District six years ago. Presently a member of the girl's varsity tennis team, Ruth has in recent years used her talents to represent the city of Hazelwood in several tournaments. Her active involvement in sports led to her election as co-captain of this year's varsity cheerleading squad.

Serving on the Queen's court were 12 sophomore, junior, and senior maids chosen by popular vote in schools B, C, and D.

As members of the court, the girls participated in the morning parade and appeared in the half-time ceremonies. The maids were later presented at the Homecoming Dance during the Queen's Coronation.

It took two varsity cheerleading squads to handle Hawk spirit during the '73 athletic campaign.

Totalling 20 girls, the varsity spirit boosters worked as one group during the football season. Then, in order to cope with the heavy winter schedule, the squad divided into two groups for cheering at basketball and wrestling events.

Captained by Ruth Delaney and Terry Wakeman, the cheerleaders won three blue and two red ribbons plus the spirit stick at the National Cheerleading Association summer camp in Marshall, Mo.

THE STUDENT WORKSHOP THEATRE
PRESENTS

Innocent murderess tricks crowd in SWT production of 'Bad Seed'

Good does not always triumph over evil, as was shown in the Student Workshop Theatre's fall production, Bad Seed.

The play concerned a young girl named Rhoda Penmark who had inherited murderous traits from her grandmother. The plot centered on her obsessions with a penmanship medal that Rhoda's school teacher awarded to Claude Daigle, one of Rhoda's classmates. Claude was found dead shortly thereafter.

Director Don Muench, drama and speech instructor, was pleased with the production. "This kind of show generates a lot of enthusiasm for both cast and crew. I was pleased with the audience's responses on the comment cards we provided for them."

Mr. Muench continued, "The technical crews put together a good set under the supervision of Larry Price, and they benefited much from his experience. The cast worked hard and faithfully, and was extremely close knit. It was both a financial and emotional success."

Senior Dave Miller added a musical note to the Hazelwood stage by performing an original composition which dealt with the play's theme.

'Three-in-one' Student Council shows involvement

In its last year as a "three-in-one" Student Council, the 1973-74 Council members took on the task of making their presence known throughout the year with various new projects.

Selling "Uncle Larry" T-shirts and co-sponsoring a volleyball marathon with Explorer Post 9043 were among the "firsts" this year. The 48-hour marathon contributed over $600 to the Cancer Society.

Another money-raising project was Slave Day, which brought in $107 for the Barry Rhoades Fund. Student Council also sponsored the traditional Homecoming Dance, recruiting enough students to complete decorations in one week. The dance was one of the first to come out in the black.

Other projects for the year included a paper drive, Nostalgia Day and new letters for the coming events sign in front of the school. Before each event, Student Council devoted many hours making signs to publicize the function, in an effort to get students more involved. As in past years, Council sold refreshments for the home football and basketball games.

This year proved to be one of innovative ideas, high membership, and student participation in the National Honor Society.

Several worthwhile projects were undertaken, such as tutoring, open house guiding, and operating the bookstore. A canned food drive was held to benefit the Salvation Army at Christmas time.

The structure of the club was revised to include committees for scholarship, service, selection process, participation, and social activities.

As a result of these new committees, old members became more involved and more members assumed positions of leadership. A new tutoring system was established and the selection process was improved to allow for a fairer method of determining membership.

The bright spot of the year was the Installation Ball following the traditional installation ceremonies. A record number of 201 students were presented with certificates of membership and letter awards. The Stage Band provided the music for dancing, and a candle light atmosphere set the mood for this first annual event.

The officers, committee chairmen and enthusiastic members demonstrated that the National Honor Society is not only an organization for scholarly students but rather an active, involved service organization.

Hawk Talk staff members develop school awareness and perception

Hawk Talk staff members discovered in 1974 that journalism meant more than writing copy. Awareness and ingenuity were essential, as was the imagination needed to create new approaches to traditional styles.

Four Journalism II classes divided school activities into news, editorials, features, and sports. Reporters tracked down interviews, traveled to sports events, and flashed pictures from all angles to bring the news to Hazelwood students.

Each semester the newspaper was produced bi-weekly by alternating staffs. Each student was granted editorship of his assigned page once during the semester, with a different managing editor every issue to oversee the entire staff's work.

Three new features were introduced to the Hawk Talk this year. Paul Fey's "Cine-File" reviewed movies appearing at local theatres. A comical view of sports was shown in Ed Alvey's "End Zone" and Greg Cook and Steve Winchester provided humorous interviews with coaches and relayed expectations for their teams in the "Coaches Corner".

The New Look Hawk Talk highlighted the student's efforts, providing the reader with a more modern and informal newspaper.

Neatness and disorder characterize Neil Simon's 'The Odd Couple'

Crumpled newspaper, week-old sandwiches, and scattered poker chips set the stage for Hazelwood's Winter Play, The Odd Couple, presented by the Student Workshop Theater. The props crew was kept busy creating the atmosphere necessary for Neil Simon's Broadway hit. "Beer" cans exploded and toilets flushed as Oscar Madison and his poker buddies anticipated winning a night's pot — until Felix Unger interrupted. The interruption turned out to be permanent as Felix, the compulsive cleaner, moved in with Oscar, the natural slob, and quarrels resulted. Oscar finally could not cope with Felix any more and forced him to move out. Said Mr. Steven Rascher, director, "I chose to do this particular play because it's my favorite comedy and I always wanted to do it." He added, "The play was easy to do and I was lucky to find boys to fit the parts." This lighthearted comedy, which ran from February 21-23, was a crowd-pleasing sell-out.

Torch staff captures student role in changing society

News throughout 1973-74 has been described as astounding, unexpected, and often as disillusioning. Major events on national and local levels touched Hazelwood as well as the rest of the nation. Changes occurred in all fields, from American foreign policies to Hazelwood school policies.

Events of these years were beyond doubt, unforgettable. And yet, while the events were not to be forgotten, the 1974 Torch staff felt a need to record them and sought to bring these events into perspective with the school year.

Breaking away from traditional styles, the 1974 Torch was planned to cover areas which would engulf a broader scope of a student's life than mere school activities. The student as a citizen, and as a member of a rapidly changing society, was the subject of the entire introduction section, created by the editorial boards.

Two classes of School Publications cooperated to form the 1973-74 Torch staff. Each class elected three students to serve on an editorial board with two appointed editors forming two 5-member editorial boards.

Through the combined efforts of these two classes, under the direction of co-sponsors Mrs. Cheryl Stoller, Mrs. Brenda Cook, and Mrs. Brenda Weinstein, a smooth, workable system was devised to produce the nation's largest high school yearbook, the Hazelwood Torch.

reaps benefits for musicians in instrumental program

Appearance, performance and precision head the list of priorities for this year's instrumental music department. Emphasis was placed on public exposure with hours of practice and hard work leading to many requests to make appearances. And they did appear.

The Orchestra, Varsity and Concert Bands performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. The Concert Band also provided music for the annual project fair and entered a local band contest.

The Stage Band played for the National Honor Society Installation Ball, the Variety Show Intermissions and held their annual Pops and Pretzels Concert.

An appearance at Busch Memorial Stadium highlighted the year for the Golden Hawks Marching Band. The GHMB delighted audiences at home football games with their marching drills and spirited music, and also marched in many local parades.

A tribute was made to Mr. Ron Thomas, band director, on his birthday when the 164-member troupe marched right up to his front door playing "Happy Birthday". The group received local television and radio coverage and appeared in metropolitan newspapers.

Spirit stick sets pompon squad into action

The pompons of spirit shook vigorously this year as the Hawkettes performed for fans of home football and basketball games.

For the 40 members of the '74 squad, the school year began early last summer when two car washes and a bake sale were held to raise money for new uniforms. Several members of the squad attended the Missouri Valley Pompon Clinic in Marshall, Missouri, where new routines were learned. When the girls returned, they proudly brought back 30 blue ribbons and the first spirit stick ever awarded to the squad.

As a result of many long, hard hours of after-school practice, the precision and fine style, characteristic of the squad, delighted audiences at the activities.

Following in the footsteps of tradition, the seniors were presented with corsages at their last group performance.

Pupils, teachers 'turnabout' to learn

Over 300 Hazelwood students found themselves on the other side of the desk when Student Council and FTA sponsored the annual Turnabout Teacher Day on April 10.

While Student Council officers assumed principals' roles and Health Careers Club president Raoul Williams took over the nurses' office, the remaining students replaced librarians and for the most part, teachers.

Each teacher selected an outstanding student to carry out his daily teaching schedule, including preparing a lesson plan for each class, maintaining classroom order and, of course, keeping up with the paper work.

Garters reflect mood of annual turnabout night

Colorful, original garters in competition for cash prizes were designed by girls for their dates at the annual Pep Club-Letterman Turnabout Dance on March 15.

The dance theme of the "Roaring 20's" influenced the look of many of the garters, while others reflected the mood of the St. Patrick's Day weekend. Judges in the garter competition were Mrs. Sharon Knubley, Coach Robert Stouffer, and Mr. John Hotfelder.

While the boys enjoyed their evening as the girls' guests, couples danced to the sounds of "Blustone".

Childhood storybook characters, Raggedy Ann and Andy came to life at Hazelwood when red-haired, rosy-cheeked seniors posed as living dolls for their traditional Senior Dress-up Day.

While red yarn wigs, ribbons, and a big smile were customary for such an occasion, many seniors used some ingenuity and donned their pinafore aprons, suspender shorts, and striped socks.

Original Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls accompanied many of the masqueraders through their usual routine of classes and lunch.

The Dress-up Day was organized by School C Senior Class President, Tammy Bryan, who commented, "I think the Dress-up Day can be a really fun experience for anyone who takes the time to participate. It has shown that there is still such a thing as spirit in the class of '74."

AFS recreates days long past at Variety Show

Nostalgia took to the stage as the American Field Service Club brought to life the era of the 50's in its seventh annual Variety Show, "Remember When."

A gigantic 45 record shadowed the stage as Hazelwood's amateur entertainers recreated the mood of the "Golden Oldies."

Hazelwood's showmen performed 16 acts exhibiting skills through songs, dances, skits, dramas and even magic tricks.

A trophy was awarded to the first place winner, Jane Kamp, who sang I Enjoy Being a Girl. The second place ribbon went to Marsha Baker who sang Alfie, with third place recognition going to Jim Reed, Chuck Hembree and Shirley Holec for their comic portrayal of the "Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour."

The profits, as in previous years, went to sponsor foreign exchange students through the AFS. This year's show turned a profit of over $400 for this purpose.

Six unique groups lift up voices in tunes from Bach to Bacharach

Tunes from Bach to Bacharach echoed in the halls of Hazelwood as six unique vocal groups prepared for numerous performances.

Throughout the year choirs provided entertainment to fit almost every preference.

Concert Choir lightened hearts during Christmas and Spring with music appropriate for the seasons. The group also took the spirit of Christmas to elderly patients when they caroled at Fontaine Woods Nursing Home.

Madrigal, 16 a capella singers chosen on the basis of merit from the Concert Choir, highlighted their season with the presentation of classical hymns at the Christmas concert.

The more diversified vocal groups, Girls Choir, Boys Glee Club, and Sophomore Choir, chose to perform modern crowd-pleasing hits of today. Boys Glee Club also introduced a new note at the spring concert by including the old sounds of a barbershop quartet singing "Lida Rose".

The Travelers, a group which combines song and dance routines, climaxed their 1974 school year at the Pops and Pretzels Concert. Included in the program were such well known contemporary selections as "Old-Fashioned Love Song" and "Long Train Runnin'".

As the school year came to an end, Hazelwood students were given an opportunity to exhibit their achievements at the annual Project Fair.

Sponsored by members of the Fine Arts Department, the projects included displays in the areas of creative media and industrial arts. Technological projects in the fields of math and science were also displayed by students.

800 follow the yellow brick road over the rainbow to Emerald City

Over 800 students donned formal wear and followed the yellow brick road to Hazelwood when the theme for the 1974 Junior-Senior Prom was the "Land of Oz".

Guests entered through Dorothy's Kansas farmhouse and travelled over the rainbow to the Land of Oz.

While murals displayed scenes from the Emerald City, Dorothy, Tin Man, Scarecrow, and other Oz characters greeted guests to complete the fantasy originally created in Frank L. Baum's novel.

Though most students wore the traditional tuxedos and formals, it was stressed that Prom was a semi-formal affair, and many arrived in semi-formal attire.

When not dancing to the sounds of "The Fat Man", Oz's well-dressed guests enjoyed refreshments consisting of finger sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, cake and punch served by Munchkins. All eyes were on the entrance to Emerald City at center stage as Sue Abuchon and Chuck Smiley were crowned Queen and King at the evening's coronation.

Gamblers, missionaries create Broadway atmosphere

Gamblers and missionaries joined forces for a six-night run, to recreate Broadway in the "fifties" for Hazelwood audiences.

Damon Runyon's Guys and Dolls revolves around two bizarre romances between colorful characters of the era. Nathan Detroit, organizer of the local floating crap game, is in his fourteenth year of engagement to night club singer-dancer, Miss Adeladie, while Sky Masterson, also a big-time gambler, is attempting to capture the fancy of Save-a-Soul missionary, Sarah Brown.

The marriage dilemma for both couples is finally resolved. As Sky mends his sinning ways, he wins the heart of Sarah and makes her his bride. Nathan finally resorts to tying the knot with Adelaide and in the finale, the entire cast joins in the happy occasion.

Escapades of the guys and gals were directed, produced, and choreographed by Miss Suzanne La Tour, with the assistance of senior Mary Kluge, student director.

Three months of planning and rehearsal by a 100 member cast and crew produced the Spring Musical successfully. The 25-piece orchestra, directed by Miss Linda Oppland, provided accompaniment to both song and dance.

Regional defeat for Hawk harriers kills chance to compete for state title

Hopes of a state title were shattered this year for the cross country team as the Hawks met a disappointing defeat at the Regional Tournament.

Beginning the season with first place victories at the First Capitol and Edwardsville Invitionals, the Hawks looked forward to a successful season.

With the talents of five returning lettermen, Jim Brocksmith and Joe Vujnich, co-captains; John Devine, Bob Ryan, and Kevin Tyler, the entire squad placed first at the Suburban North Conference and North District meets.

With these successes under their belt, the Hawks entered the Regional Tournament optimistically. But disaster destroyed their hopes of victory as the team failed to qualify for state competition.

Jim Brocksmith was the only harrier that qualified to compete at Columbia by finishing in the top ten at Regionals. He finished 73rd at State. Although the season ended abruptly, Hazelwood posted an impressive 166-9 total points record for the cross country season.

'Team to beat' ends disappointing 3-4-2 season

It is difficult to follow a champion. And so it was for the defending Missouri Class 4A titleholders who were pegged as "the team to beat" at the offset of the '73 campaign.

By posting a 3-4-2 overall record, the gridmen ranked a disappointing fourth in the Suburban North Conference and visions of a repeat performance of the '72 season were shattered.

High hopes were dampened early in the season when Belleville East tied the Hawks 28-28 in the last minutes of the season opener.

Frustration followed frustration when the Hawks took on the rival Central Tigers at Cape Girardeau and were handed a 15-12 defeat.

When conference play began, the gridmen, paced by quarterback Greg Cypret and split end Mike Summers, easily defeated St. Charles and Ritenour, 36-0 and 34-14, respectively.

In later action, the Hawks were stunned by Pattonville 46-35 and then succumbed to Riverview 37-20 at the Homecoming game.

The squad dazed McCluer North with a late minute razzle dazzle play executed by Cypret and running back John Curia which resulted in a 26-24 Hawk victory. The next week the gridmen fell to powerful McCluer 24-21.

In the closing contest, the Hawks tied conference champion Normandy 3-3 to end the season the same way it started.

'73 gridmen boast thirteen league all-stars

Every athletic team has its outstanding members. The '73 Hawk footballers were no exception as thirteen members received the honor of placement on the Suburban North All-Conference team.

Senior Milt Galucia was selected to be on second team offense.

Those receiving honorable mention were halfback Ron Parker, halfback Paul Davis, end Jack Hayden, tackle Bill Rinke, tackle Stuart Potts, safety Robb Howard, and end Paul Heidenreich.

Soph grid teams and records go in three directions

Winning, losing and breaking even marked the first year of becoming Hazelwood B, Hazelwood C, and Hazelwood D in sophomore interscholastic sports.

Finishing the season 3-4-1, B school footballers played an average season boasting victories over Country Day, McCluer North, and Hazelwood School D.

School C gridmen can grin with the best of the trio's records by winding up with five wins and three losses. Oakville, Pattonville, Riverview, McCluer, and Normandy fell victim to the power of the Hawks who enjoyed a fine latter half by winning four of their last five games.

School D teammates meanwhile found themselves struggling through a 2-5-1 season. The victories were impressive as D schoolers blanked both McCluer and Parkway West as the Hawk gridders scored over twenty points in each game.

Top ... For School C sophomores, half-time allowed a few refreshing minutes to regroup and remap strategy for second half action.

Bottom Left ... Curt Simon makes a touchdown jaunt look easy as he tucks the pigskin close to his body.

Matmen post 6-5 dual record to place third in Suburban North

Eleven junior matmen, led by state champion Harold Ritchie, wrestled their way to a third place tie in the Suburban North Conference with a 6-5 dual meet record.

Hawks Mike Meglio, Pat Quinlist, Harold Ritchie and Greg Korzep all emerged as regional meet medalists as Ritchie took second with his only loss of the season going to Northwest Blue Devil Ricky Barnes.

Ritchie's second place finish sent him one week later to the state meet at Forest Park Community College where he revenged his loss to Barnes by defeating him 6-2. His victory earned him the 138-pound championship.

Injuries hampered the team's performance throughout the season as three key members missed most of the season.

All-conference recognition went to Harold Ritchie and Dave Sasche. Ritchie was placed on the first team while Sasche made honorable mention.

The Hawks participated in four tournaments, finishing second in the Pattonville Tournament, fifth in the District Tournament, fifth in the Regional Meet, and thirteenth in state competition.

Roundballers net fourth in league with a 15-8 season

It took the strong Suburban North Conference boasting the state Champion McCluer Comets to push the winning Hawks from the spotlight.

Despite a 15-8 season, the Hazelwood Hawksearned only a fourth place in the Suburban North Conference, which may not sound too honorable, except that their season was a vast improvement over last year's 3-13 season. McCluer, St. Charles, and Riverview, all area basketball powers, are in the Suburban North Conference which the North County Journal has entitled "the toughest league in the area."

Yet the Hawks would not sit back and let the conference kick them around. The Hazelwood Cagers started Regional play against the second most winning team, the Riverview Rams who had twice thrashed the Hawks during the conference play.

An astonished crowd watched the Hawks steal the game 56-55 in a decision that went to the wire. The following night the Hawks lost to the eventual state title winners, finishing second in Regionals.

It took the Suburban North Conference to put a 15-8 team in fourth place.

Soph teams prove the odds in cage action

When a school has three sophomore basketball squads odds are that one of those teams will achieve a winning record. Unfortunately, the odds are equally great that one team will have a losing record.

So was the case of Hazelwood's sophs who failed to stymie the odd-makers as B, C, and D, school posted 11-7, 8-10, and 1-16 records respectively.

Leading B school to a winning season were Ron Smith and Phil Carter with point averages of 13.0 and 10.0 respectively.

Commanding C school were Don Howell (13.5) and Jeff Surgeon (11.0).

D school sharpshooters were David Siegel (11.5) and Randy Sarason (9.5).

Team spirit sparks kickers to 6-12-3 record

Unity and team spirit was the name of the game for both the varsity and sophomore soccer Hawks as they concluded the '73-'74 season with 6-12-3 and 10-5-5 records respectively.

Highlights of the season were the sophomore shutting out first place McCluer 2-0, and the varsity defeating sixth place Ritenour.

Junior Steve Moyers led the varsity kickers in goals with 9 scored, followed by senior Tom Peters with 5. Top scorers for the sophomores were Tom Welch with 6 and Bill Freeman with 4 goals.

Chosen all-conference first team were junior Steve Moyers and sophomores Bill Freeman, Kevin McNiff, Greg Scatturo and Mike Westcott. Seniors Terry Johns and Marty Sontheimer, and sophomore goalie Lou Zimmer received honorable mention.

The soccer season ended with sophomore Hawks taking second place behind McCluer and the varsity team finishing fifth in the conference.

Athletic females find action with GAA participation

Over five-hundred girls spent their afternoons participating in sports sponsored by GAA.

Included in the sports lineup were tennis, field hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, track and gymnastics.

In between games and practices for upcoming sports events, the girls took time out for other extracurricular activities. They entered a float in the Homecoming parade, served at the annual Sports Banquet, and sponsored two Parent-Daughter volleyball games.

In the fall, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team challenged the faculty to a basketball game, from which the girls emerged victorious.

The 1973 Baseball Hawks were a good team. The 1974 Hawks were better. In 1973 there were hopes and dreams of a state championship. In 1974 there were photographs.

On May 23, 1974 Coach Harry Gurley and his hungry Hawks journeyed to Kansas City to finish the state playoffs. Playoff action so far had favored the Hawks. In five innings the Hawks' hitting finished St. Dominick in a game which sent Hazelwood to state semi-finals. The next day in Kansas City with the ace pitching of Big Al Olmstead, Hazelwood won 3-2, which pitted Hazelwood against last year's state champions, Fox High of Arnold, in the state finals.

The decision was made; the Hawks would use senior pitcher Craig Moeller despite his arm having had only two days rest. The decision proved to be a wise one as Moeller fanned 12 batters and allowed only two hits and in the passing pitched Hazelwood to a 4-0 shut-out victory and a Missouri Class 2A State Championship.

1974 was the last year the Hawks could get a championship of anything. When Craig Moeller pitched that last ball to a Fox High ball player he had ended a whole era in High School athletics. Not only his own but the Hazelwood Hawks' as well. What better way to close than with a state championship?

Varsity tennis boasts 12-3 season record

After having lost three of their first four conference meets, the tennis Hawks rallied to beat their last ten opponents and finished with an overall record of 12 wins and 3 losses and a second place in the conference.

At mid-season, the Hawks surprised several teams in the Conference tournament, and returned home with a third place trophy.

One week later, Pete Wall, at first singles, qualified for the state tournament in Columbia by winning second in the district.

The talented sophomore lost in the quarter finals at state, but finished his regular season undefeated.

Junior Chris Wall, brother of Pete, played second singles and improved throughout the season.

At third singles, Paul Vishnesky dazzled opponents as one of the few players to make the Varsity team as a freshman. Paul was undefeated in his last ten matches.

At first doubles, Al Eble, senior, and Steve Minogue, junior, lost only once as a team, and that was to powerful McCluer North. Their most rewarding victory and the team's most exciting upset came at the expense of McCluer. The Comets lost only once and that was to Hazelwood.

At second doubles, Jim Hofman and Dan Marquart established themselves as a formidable team. Both players are sophomores.

Two other lettermen were Bill Bassett and Dave Smith. Both Bill and Dave were called upon several times for Varsity play.

Sandtrappers win conference with 16-0 mark

With a 16-0 varsity record and a 15-0 junior varsity record, a Suburban North Conference Championship, and a second place in the District Tournament, golf Coach Frank Ward explained "There's lots of depth. It's a well balanced team."

Perhaps Coach Ward was referring to the team's four members who averaged under forty strokes while not forgetting four others who averaged forty strokes. Or perhaps he was making reference to the team's ability to pick each other up.

The real key to the team was its depth. The team didn't need to count on a single star player. They all played well and they all played together.

Seniors Steve Murphy, Bill Moretti, and Greg Johnson along with juniors Steve Deitz, Mark Stellern, Mike Wallace, and Steve Nahrup and Freshman Paul Trittler lettered the team as they placed a surprising 11th in state competition. Mr. Ward had no excuses. "They just didn't play as well."

Cindermen feel loss of graduates, finish second in conference

Despite the loss of a number of outstanding athletes who graduated last year, the 1974 Hawk cindermen managed to keep a second place pace behind the 1974 state champion Normandy Vikings in conference competition.

The Hawks opened the season at the annual Alton relays finishing fifth overall in a field of 32 schools. The sprint medley relay team of Ron Parker, Mark Flaker, Rick Graefe, and Jim Brocksmith broke the eight-year-old record by clocking an honorable 3:36.2.

In the Suburban North Relays the Hawks finished a mere nine points behind Normandy.

The Conference Meet, again proved the Hawks to be second best only to Normandy. On May 18, nine Hazelwood trackmen found themselves at the state meet where they scrounged six points placing them thirteenth in team totals. Mark Flaker emerged as the Great Hope taking second in the 100 yd. dash. Sophomore John Giani placed fourth in the discus throw.

Throughout the season new records were set by Mark Flaker running a 9.9 100 yard dash and Jim Brocksmith turning in a two mile time of 9:32.7.

Three-school arrangement endures in milestone year

Mr. Laurence J. Fuqua, principal

Hazelwood, in the 1973-74 school year carried on with the three-schools-in-one plan adopted for 1972-73. The method proved effective, as before, in educating over 5,000 students, but in a growing community, could only work temporarily.

Looking toward future overcrowding, and striving for quality education, Hazelwood devised a four-year high school program, allowing freshman a wider range of courses. This program was made possible by the passage of two bond issues totaling $13 million toward the construction of two new four-year high schools, which would eliminate overcrowding on both the junior high and high school levels.

When unforeseen problems slowed production of the new schools, the Board of Education was forced to change the 1974-75 schedule from staggered to split sessions, in order to accommodate the projected 7,800 students of Hazelwood's Central, East, and West.

Although it meant minor sacrifices from all involved, Hazelwood had once again innovated toward educating well the youth of its ever-growing community.

School board applies innovation in accomodating projected 7,800

Virtually no changes were present in the appearance or administrative structure of Hazelwood in 1973-74, but something unique was present — the realization that this was the final year of Hazelwood High School as we knew it.

In its twenty years Hazelwood had grown from a relatively small rural school to the largest high school in the state. But now, bursting at its seams, Hazelwood was bowing out in favor of Hazelwood Central, Hazelwood East, and Hazelwood West.

Those present who had watched Hazelwood grow looked on the change with both regret and anticipation. But all realized that a new plateau had been reached, and that there were new educational fields to explore.

Although '74 seniors had never experienced a single-school Hazelwood, there was a sense of unity which was soon to end. A true extra effort seemed to be made toward excellence in all fields in order to give Hazelwood High School a fitting end — and hopefully, a great beginning.

Outside world Social Studies' teaching device

Classroom walls were not the boundaries of Social Studies courses this year. Field trips, situation games and a close-up look at Washington, D.C., involved Hazelwood students in putting theory into practice.

This practice included games that introduced students to real-life situations such as racial tension, stock market dealings and foreign affairs; thus enabling students to relate classroom studies to their own lives.

Outside the classroom, a group of students sponsored through the Close-Up Foundation program, travelled to Washington, D.C., where they attended seminars and congressional sessions and toured the city.

Additional studies consisted of min-courses, psychological tests and mazes and guest speakers including a lawyer, judge, mayor and social worker.

The sciences observe nature as it really is Emphasis was placed on total student involvement in the sciences for 1974. In keeping with this theme the science department offered the option of team teachers, independent study or the conventional lecture/laboratory classroom.

New and varied teaching methods along with classes ranging from General Biology and Applied Science to Advanced Chemistry and Physics, caused the enrollment in the sciences to reach a record high of 1,521.

The General Biology and Advanced Biology students were able to take advantage of the wildlife preserve as an outdoor classroom.

This unique classroom allowed students to observe and experiment with nature in its natural state.

Language arts made fun the HHS way

While dangling participles and run-on sentences will probably always plague English students, the serious business of language arts has been made fun the Hazelwood way.

Whether enrolled in the differentiated staffing program or in any of the 28 phase elective courses, language art students were able to choose subjects according to individual interest and ability. The courses offered included everything from Sports and Cars in Literature to Seminar in Ideas.

Even though programs continued to implement both the open and traditional classroom concepts, the language arts curriculum emphasized teaching the skills of oral and written communication and providing the fundamentals of literary understanding and appreciation.

Language study promotes understanding

Advanced transportation and the mass media have brought Americans closer to foreign neighbors than ever before. Because of increased exposure to different countries, cultural understanding has gained importance in the Hazelwood curriculum.

Over 925 students were introduced to the cultures of France, Germany, Spain, and ancient Latin speaking countries.

"Since becoming a separate department from Language Arts last year there seems to be more unity between members and departments," said Mrs. Kathie Vogt, department chairman. Next year students will have a better opportunity to fulfill their English requirements as Foreign Language will become a communications skill credit.

Field trips to various restaurants and the Art Museum were among the many activities available to participating students. Guest speakers played an important role in the program by informing students of their particular cultural background.

Spanish folk-dancing, skits performed in foreign languages, and foreign cuisine served to over 500 people made up the International Buffet planned and organized by the foreign language students.

Through class studies and special events, students found that foreign language is, as in the words of Mrs. Vogt, "a passport to the world."

Changes in P.E. curriculum; Driver's Ed. uses proven technique

The era of change has come to the world of physical education.

Three new sub-units were introduced — body-building and handball for the male students, and co-ed golf.

Sophomores were given a choice of two activities per quarter instead of the mandatory quarterly units as before.

Ninety-eight percent of all students who attended Hazelwood were enrolled in Physical Education. The remaining 2% took adaptive P.E. This was a modified program which enabled the student to do only those things which were recommended by a doctor.

In Driver's Education, learning through doing was the key to developing safe drivers. Approximately 1,750 students completed the course which included classroom instruction, simulation films, and on-the-road experience.

The location of the high school allowed students a variety of road types and conditions, from country roads to interstate highways.

Business ed. stresses work, college skills

In 16 Business Education courses 29 teachers stressed 3 important goals: the development of skills for college, the opportunity to work in a simulated business world, and the chance to utilize business knowledge in practical situations.

Students found courses geared not only for the business bound but for those interested in other fields. From basic Typing I to technical Office Occupations, business courses provided for each student's needs.

Two clubs: D.E.C.A., open to D.E. students only; and F.B.L.A., open to all business students, contributed to the popularity of Business Education. Students in both clubs competed with students from other schools on local, state, and national levels. Areas of competition included sales demonstration, shorthand, public speaking, and marketing studies.

Concerts provide experience for student musicians

Over 800 students took advantage of Hazelwood's music curriculum this year. Singing and playing at concerts provided valuable experience in a pleasurable way.

Hours of practice paid off for the various choirs and bands as they performed at the Christmas and spring concerts, Project Fair, Pops and Pretzels Concert, and Variety Show.

The Hazelwood Golden Hawks Marching Band, a combination of Concert and Varsity Bands, reached the height of their marching season on Nov. 4 when they performed at Busch Memorial Stadium for the St. Louis Cardinal — Denver Bronco football game.

Two years old now, the Hazelwood Orchestra has only 20 people. In spite of its size, it has played at two concerts this year. The Orchestra also visited district elementary schools to help persuade the children to take up a string instrument and join the Orchestra when they enter high school.

Six Hazelwood students proved to be outstanding musicians. Jane Kamp and Pam Hankins, both juniors and members of Concert Choir, were chosen to sing with the Missouri All-State High School Choir. The choir consisted of students from all over Missouri and performed at the State Choir Director's Convention in Jefferson City.

Four Concert Band members, Ina Metzger, senior; Brenda Zoellner, senior; Laura Lafser, sophomore; and Vicki Smith, sophomore, were selected for the All-Suburban Band. The members of the band were chosen through auditions and played under the direction of W. Francis Macbeth, nationally known composer.

creative talents

Art being an expression of inner self, a sign of individuality could be found in many different types of courses designed to fill the needs of many individuals. Drama, speech, visual arts and fine arts aided students in discovering their untapped creative abilities.

Art I students helped St. Louis weather the energy crisis by painting the windows of the Mariott Hotel during Halloween and Christmas to replace its elaborate lighting displays.

Four Fine Arts students received blue ribbons for their sketches which were displayed at the Scholastic Art Awards Exhibit sponsored by Famous-Barr. Their pieces then competed on a national level.

Speech and debate students entered into competition with students from other area high schools and presented exhibitions of oral interpretation, public speaking, duet acting and poetry reading.

Skill and craftsmanship were brought about through application of drafting, woodworking, and metalworking basics. Logic and clear thinking were necessary to understand the fundamentals of electricity. Every student enrolled in an industrial arts course was required to complete at least one useful project.

The curriculum included three courses designed to teach the fundamentals of electricity, metalworking and drafting, and another six for more advanced students. One course specifically designed for girls taught the use of hand tools necessary to the future housewife.

Besides being instructive, the courses also proved to be rewarding.

Of the students who took a test to receive three hours of credit at Florissant Valley Community College, 96% received the credits.

Logical thought stressed in math studies

To prepare students for future problems in whatever careers they follow, the mathematics curriculum stressed logical reasoning and creativity.

Ten courses ranging from Functional Math to calculus were designed for practicing logic, rather than just learning theory.

The Twenty-Fourth Annual Mathematics Exam was given at Hazelwood to compare students across the country and to give them practice in taking standardized tests used in many colleges and universities.

I'm going to sell my car when I graduate and buy a new 750 Honda. My brother has one now and we're going to travel around the states for about half a year and then go to college (Jack Hayden) . . . It feels great being a senior in that I know it's my last year and I won't have to come back. I'm just glad to get out (Judy Smith) . . . I like the phase elective system a lot better than the old English system (Davy Jeffers)

The bus ride to and from school is like suicide run. (Debbie Messmer) . . . I look at the school as an opportunity to meet people, not as an opportunity to be just a number. (Mary Krummenacher) . . . To kill time, I sneer at the teachers (behind their backs, of course) and watch the girls go by. (Herschell Spears) . . . I wish I could change the football record. (Jim Mitchell) . . . All I drink is the milk. (Shirley Klos)

You wait to be a senior to put down the juniors and sophomores but there's more of them. It's like a curse that follows this class. (Paula Hubbard) . . . It took me a day and half and three schedules before I was registered. (Bill Simmons) . . . Bomb scares are good because they always happen when I have a test. (Bill Heinrich) . . . Acknowledgements

In the 1973-74 school year, 5,400 individuals created the world of Hazelwood. I took its form through hard work, cooperation and a surprising sense of unity in an overflowing student population.

Its surface was ever-changing, yet beneath this exterior lay a common theme: learning to cope with a society in turmoil, and through education, preparing to change it.

Major problems and conflicts occurred on local as well as national levels. Yet, this year should not be remembered as the year of shortages, of inflation, or of Watergate. Rather, 1973-74 should be remembered as the year Hazelwood students, along with all Americans, saw the weaknesses of their society, and began building for a better future.
